

Ayr Gaiety

the GAIETY

The Gaiety Theatre, run largely through voluntary effort and supported by a small core staff team, has an overall vision to grow the performing arts and culture in Ayr and South Ayrshire.

They achieve this by:

- Creating an arts hub facility for artists and creative practitioners, and a successful and sustainable arts centre and visitor attraction
- Providing a gateway for regional, national and international artists and touring companies into South West Scotland.
- Partner with the University of the West of Scotland and Ayrshire College in delivering an educational resource for higher education and training,
